MEMORANDUM OPINION

On May 1, 2008, Davis McDowell Robinson was sentenced on wire and mail fraud counts, in violation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 1343 & 1341. Criminal judgment was entered the following day on May 2, 2008. On July 31, 2009, the United States Court of Appeals affirmed this Court's judgment. See United States v. Robinson, 341 Fed. Appx. 942 (4th Cir. 2009).

On October 28, 2011, Robinson filed a "Motion for Dismissal of Indictment and Vacation of Judgment for Failure to State an Offense under FRCrP Rule 12(b)(3)(B)." ECF No. 76. The Court re-characterized the Motion as a 28 U.S.C. § 2255 Motion. The Court, however, re-construed the filing without affording Robinson notice of its intention to re-characterize the filing under the requirements of Castro v. United States, 540 U.S. 375 (2003). On July 10, 2012, the Court corrected this error by granting Robinson's Motion for Reconsideration in part. Furthermore, this Court noted that Robinson's previously filed Motion would not be construed as a Motion seeking habeas corpus relief pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2255 and observed that Robinson's 2011 filing would not "affect the filing of a [future] motion pursuant to § 2255." ECF Nos. 83 & 85.

On January 23, 2014, the Court denied and dismissed Robinson's January 2013 Motion to Vacate as untimely after briefing by the parties. ECF Nos. 119 & 120. The appeal of that determination was dismissed and a certificate of appealability was denied by the Fourth Circuit on June 4, 2014. See United States v. Robinson, 575 Fed. Appx. 134 (4th Cir. 2014).

On October 30, 2014, Robinson filed a Motion to Vacate, Set Aside, or Correct Sentence, raising several ineffective assistance of counsel claims. ECF No. 129. This filing represents another direct attack on Robinson's federal conviction. As the dismissal of Robinson's prior § 2255 Motion constituted an adjudication on the merits, see Villanueva v. United States, 346 F. 3d 55, 61 (2d Cir. 2003); White v. United States, ___ F. Supp.3d ___ 2014 WL 5302959 (D. S.C. 2014), Robinson's newly filed Motion is properly construed as a successive § 2255 motion.

Successive § 2255 motions may not be filed absent authorization to do so from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. See 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3)(A) & 2255(h); In re Avery W. Vial, 115 F.3d 1192, 1197-98 (4th Cir. 1997) (en banc). Robinson has provided no evidence that he received authorization to file a successive Motion to Vacate by the appellate court as required pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3)(A).¹

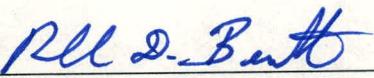

An inmate who filed a Motion to Vacate has no absolute entitlement to appeal a district court's denial of his Motion. See 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c) (1). "A certificate of appealability may issue ... only if the applicant has made a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right.” Id. at §2253(c) (2). The Defendant “must demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find the district court’s assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong,” Tennard v. Dretke, 542 U.S. 274, 282, (2004) (quoting Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484, (2000)), or that “the issues presented were ‘adequate to deserve encouragement to proceed further,’” Miller-El v. Cockrell, 537 U.S. 322, 335-36, (2003) (quoting Barefoot v. Estelle, 463 U.S. 880, 893 n. 4 (1983)).

When a district court dismisses a motion to vacate solely on procedural grounds, a Certificate of Appealability will not issue unless the Petitioner can demonstrate both “(1) ‘that jurists of reason would find it debatable whether the petition states a valid claim of the denial of a constitutional right’ and (2) ‘that jurists of reason would find it debatable whether the district court was correct in its procedural ruling.’” Rose v. Lee, 252 F.3d 676, 684 (4th Cir. 2001) (quoting Slack, 529 U.S. at 484 (2000)). Robinson has not made the required showing and the Court declines to issue a Certificate of Appealability. His Motion to Vacate will be dismissed without prejudice for lack of jurisdiction. A separate Order shall be entered reflecting the opinion set out herein.
